

One area that causes many dealers frustration and concern is Department of Transportation (DOT) regulations. Certainly, we get many, many questions about it, with some of the anxiety having to do with the differences in interpretation of the law. We've found a company that specializes in DOT regs and we're providing a series of workshops in August and September – at no charge – to bring the information to you.

Mike Harp, Corporate Safety Compliance, Inc. (CSC), will present the programs. CSC can be a resource for you to answer questions or conduct a mock audit at your facility. This will be an opportunity to meet Mike and ask your questions about trucking regulations.

This workshop is for you if you want to learn about...

- Hauling equipment intrastate and interstate.
- Regulations pertaining to operating authority, i.e. USDOT number, MCS-150, UCR, state authority and hazardous materials registration.
- Required documentation for companies with commercial motor vehicles, such as driver qualification files, hours of service, daily vehicle inspection reports, etc.
- Current hours of service regulations.
- Driver log books.
- Requirements for CDL vehicles.
- Load securement.
- Oversize loads including pilot car regulations.
- Categories of different hitches and regulations.
- And more...
